Make shopping for healthier products easier for your customers. Improve loyalty, increase sales, and unlock revenue.

The Challenge

Retailers are tasked with helping their customers eat more healthily and customers are looking to retailers to help them achieve their health goals.

The Solution

Identify and recommend healthier products that are similar per category. This helps nudge customers towards healthier eating habits over time.

How We Do It

Spoon Guru AI looks beyond the label and analyzes nutritional level data to curate healthier alternatives for each product in the same category.

The Benefits

- 100% accurate results for suitable products based on dietary needs and health preferences.
- Trust and convenience for your shoppers
- Increased frequency of purchase and usually more items per order
- Secure market share and increase loyalty through an improved and personalized customer experience

Conversion is 50% more for visits with a healthier swap compared to visits with any cart additions.*

Average Order Value is 10% higher for customers that swap for a healthier product than customers without.*
